Invest In Your Dental Team

Dental Staff Early Bird Promo - $55

One of the most important ways you can develop employee loyalty is by contributing to their own personal and professional development. When you invest in your staff, you show you care – and GDA's Convention & Expo is one opportunity for both you and your dental team.

We've identified seven CE courses that are valuable and interesting for members of your staff.

- Risk Management /Trends in Professional Liability
- HIPAA/OSHA
- Section 199A of The New Tax Code & How It Affects Dentists
- Effective IT, IT Security
- Managing Medical Emergencies in the Dental Office
- Balancing Work/Life Stress
- Team Building

Additionally, all attendees are able to attend these no-cost activities:

- Exhibit Hall Welcome Reception & Happy Hour Events
- Kick Off Breakfast with Artist, Richard Hight
- Saturday Night Celebration
- GDA Lounge karaoke & lip sync battles

MEMBER MOMENT

NDDS member, Dr. Becky Weinman is one of several dentists featured in the February issue of the Action Magazine.

★ Service Dogs

Dr. Becky Weinman

In my retirement from clinical dentistry, I am enjoying spending most of my week with my four-legged friends at Canine Assistants; an organization in Alpharetta that breeds and educates service dogs. I volunteer in the nursery where the mama dogs come a few days before they are due to deliver. We take care of Mom and her puppies from birth to 7 weeks. Mom goes back to her family and the pups are then introduced into the main kennel and are assigned fosters. The foster brings the pups home for several days a week to help the staff teach manners and the skills needed for seizure response, PTSD companionship, diabetes detection, and personal assistance. The dogs are ready to graduate and are matched with a recipient at about eighteen months to two years old. I have been a volunteer at Canine Assistants for more than four years and have yet to find the words to describe the feeling of watching a puppy grow from birth, learn the skills needed, and graduate changing the life of a child in a wheelchair or an adult who has been house bound because of seizures. Canine Assistants also has dogs in several hospitals around the country that comfort children and their families.
